Your Excellency

The 70th Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod will be taking place in July 2016 and we would like to invite competitors from your country to participate in this celebration. . The first one was held in this small town in a beautiful valley in North Wales in 1947 as a bid to help the nations of the world come together and begin to heal the scars left by the Second World War. Pioneers of this vision felt that if countries could be encouraged to come together to compete under a flag of music, divisions between the nations could begin to be understood in a positive way with an underpinning message of peace.

We are extremely proud that the vision of the founders still carries on despite factors such as economic challenges and continuing conflicts between nations and ideologies. Every year competitors in choral music and folk dance come from every continent and find an understanding and joy in being in each other's company. The people of this area open their hearts and homes to the competitors as they have done since 1947.

Enclosed you will find, the syllabus for the 70th International Eisteddfod and I would be grateful if you would pass this to your Cultural Attaché or another, more appropriate member of your Embassy team in order that the message of peace can be cascaded to the associations or groups within your country.

We are interested in developing links with association overseas to help promote our Eisteddfod. We would welcome any suggestions that you could put forward to assist us in developing international connections.

We also hope that you or a member of your team will join us to celebrate Llangollen 70!

Yours sincerely
